Notable features:

Though they are viable houses, if they went there would be no great loss and the density of the block would be relieved somewhat. On the other hand, they are well maintained, have a quiet street between two very busy ones.

Environmental context:

Vacant lots at 121 and 107; faces a group of equally or better kept houses; street is intimate and quiet and deserves to remain unless some overwhelming planning objective could be met by their removal.
